MSH INTERNATIONAL acclaimed “Service Provider of the Year 2013” at the Asia Insurance Industry Awards

MSH INTERNATIONAL was awarded the “Service Provider of the Year 2013” prize on November 6 in Singapore for its Chinese subsidiary by Asia Insurance Review, the leading regional magazine for insurance professionals.

This award rewards the high-end and innovative range of services provided by MSH INTERNATIONAL’s Chinese subsidiary to support the significant development of healthcare insurance for local high-net-worth individuals. The group has set up a global network of more than 1,000 healthcare providers in Mainland China to be the healthcare partner of its 800 client companies, including the regional subsidiaries of Google, Microsoft, Intel and General Electric.

MSH INTERNATIONAL also successfully stands out from competition by offering entirely tailor-made services to all its insured members, with the creation in particular of the “Concierge Service”. This service allows insured members who are not from the region to benefit from the local presence of MSH INTERNATIONAL’s bilingual staff in case of hospitalization, from admission to discharge from the hospital.

The jury also highlighted the innovative nature of the drug home delivery service and the direct billing system implemented with partner pharmacies for members suffering from chronic diseases.

As a pioneering company in the field of healthcare innovation, MSH INTERNATIONAL is also the first international healthcare insurance provider in China to be ISO 9001 and ISO 27001 certified, which attests to the high-quality security level of its administration IT system.
